

THE CURRENT WAR PATH

AMERICA 1ST

AUSTRALIA, JAPAN, TAIWAN, PHILIPPINES, NEW ZEALAND,

LAST.

The island nations are the pawns in a great-power game — and they will suffer the most when the energy sea lanes are cut.

THE GAME WE'VE BEEN DEALT INTO

Washington renamed its Department of Defense the Department of War, and told us plainly who comes first: America 1st. AUKUS chains Australia to that posture — a confrontation with our largest trading partner on a timetable set overseas. But this war is a blockade, decided by fuel and logistics: energy is everything, and Hormuz proved no navy can keep a sea lane open against today's missiles, drones and submarines. Even if the United States wins, Australia loses — and a war here very likely escalates into a third world war.

THE WHOLE REGION GETS SACRIFICED.

Every Asia-Pacific nation runs on imported energy to power its economy and feed its people. Close the sea lanes, and you starve us all.

THE WISER MOVE

SEEK PEACE IN THE ASIA-PACIFIC.

Dialogue, unity and partnership — a united region that settles its disputes at the table, not the trench. Peace is not the soft option. It is the strategy.

READ THE CASE → modernmovementaustralia.com.au/defence